A Good Connection

The case of Josef Carl Engressia Jr., the young blind man who carried direct distance dialing beyond anything the telephone company ever imagined, has come to what we hope will be a happy ending.

Not only did Mr. Engressia listen for the dial tone, he and his electronic devices whistled it with perfect pitch. Beeping and chiming at the appropriate times. Mr. Engressia created quite a hang-up for the South Central Bell Telephone Co. by switching his calls to cities around the world past the operators. Feeling short-changed, the telephone company decided to prosecute even while admiring Mr. Engressia's telephone artistry.

After his arrest June 2 the blind genius disclosed that, despite his obvious electronic skills and the engineering training he had picked up at the University of South Florida, he was unemployed, lonely and subsisting on a $97-a-month check he receives from the Tennessee Welfare Department. Judge Ray Churchill, recognizing that the prosecution had a wrong number, reduced the charges and let Mr. Engressia off with a light fine.

Now that the Millington telephone company has offered Mr. Engressia a job in which he can put his talents to a legal use, he apparently will have good reason to whistle while he works.—Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal

Teen-Agers and Newspapers

A study made by the University of California, Los Angeles, shows that the higher a teen-ager's intelligence rating the more he reads newspapers. "Daily reading of the newspaper was more highly related to intelligence than was the reading of magazines, comic books, paperback and hard-cover books," the study shows.

The tests were run on sixth grade and tenth grade boys and girls. Boys, it seems are more avid newspaper readers than girls.

In the low intelligence level only 22 per cent of the boys and 20 percent of the girls in the sixth grade said they read newspapers regularly. Some 28 per cent of the tenth grade boys and 35 per cent of the tenth grade girls in the same I.Q. level said they read newspapers.

In the "moderate" I.Q. bracket, 69 per cent of the sixth grade boys and 54 per cent of the tenth grade boys read newspapers. The percentage for girls was somewhat lower.

In the high intelligence bracket 53 per cent of the sixth grade boys and 57 per cent of the girls are newspaper readers and 52 per cent of the tenth grade boys and a whopping 78 per cent of the tenth grade girls do the same.

In all brackets only 10 per cent of the boys and girls said they believed that a person could get all the news he needed from sources other than newspapers.—Shreveport (La.) Journal

Testimony Starts in Murder Trial

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Testimony was to begin today in the first-degree murder trial of Arthur D. Feagin, 33, of near Springdale.

Pros. Atty. Mahlon Gibson of Fayetteville said Monday the state would seek the death penalty for Feagin, who is charged in the Dec. 26 slaying of his wife.

Feagin has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. A jury of eight men and four women was selected Monday as the jury for the trial. About 90 persons had been subpoenaed as prospective jurors.

Feagin's 31-year-old wife, Ota Lucinda, was shot three times with a high-powered rifle at the couple's home just east of Springdale. The death took place two days after Feagin had been notified that his wife had undertaken proceedings to obtain a divorce.

Legislators Still Getting 'Expenses'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Records in the state auditor's office show that 61 members of the Arkansas House have been reimbursed by the state for out-of-session legislative expenses in July.

The month was the first covered by a new law that allows legislators to be reimbursed out of session for such items as car mileage, lodging, meals, postage, telephones, clerical help, office equipment and rental.

No claim was on file for the Senate, but a computer coding error reportedly delayed claims filed by senators.

The law, proposed by Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock, established a maximum monthly reimbursement of $150 in this fiscal year. The maximum goes to $200 monthly in the next fiscal year and $250 monthly in the 1973-74 fiscal year.

Forty-three of the House members filed for the maximum for July. Twenty of those 43 said their actual expenses totaled more than the maximum reimbursement.

Rep. Julian J. Pratt of Camden, who claimed the $150 for "secretarial and miscellaneous," said his actual expenses had been $276, the highest amount reported among the House claims.

Nine others reported expenses above $200.

Rep. George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith reported the smallest claim, $32.07. He listed the expenditures for postage and telephone calls.

Most of the legislators did not itemize their expenses. Brandon did not turn in a claim for July. He said he had been out of town and had not had time to do it. He said, however, that his expenses in July exceeded $300.

The allowance is in addition to a legislator's monthly salary of $100 and the $20 legislators draw daily when the General Assembly is in session.

On top of those benefits, House members receive $140 weekly while in session and senators receive a total of $1,800 per session for living expenses, patronage and other costs. The net effect is this: House members who draw the full benefits available to them during the current biennium will receive $8,600, excluding special sessions and the extension of this year's regular legislative session, Senate members who do the same will draw at least $9,800.

Jordan Warns of Another Mid-East War

By FAROUK NASSAR

Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan warned today that another war soon between the Arabs and Israel would lead the Arabs to another disaster and the loss of more territory to Israel.

Hussein indicated he is willing to consider an interim settlement with Israel over Jerusalem but gave no details.

"The disarray and weakness of the Arab world have never been worse," the king said in an interview with the Beirut newspaper Al Nahar. "The Arab countries are not yet strong enough to take on Israel."

The king's warning appeared to be directed at Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, who has vowed to resolve the Middle East crisis this year, either peacefully or by war.

Hussein advocated a continuation of the present cease-fire "until the Arab states coordinate their policies and build up a joint force capable of exerting effective political and military pressure on Israel."

He said he is willing for other Arab countries to station troops along Jordan's cease-fire line with Israel provided they are placed under Jordanian command. A 15,000-man Iraqi contingent left Jordan last year because the king insisted they be put under his personal leadership. The force had been sent to Jordan during the 1967 war.

Says School Lunch Plan Crippled

By AUSTIN SCOTT

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The school lunch directors of 37 states have accused the Department of Agriculture of bringing school lunch programs to "a screeching halt" less than a month before classes reopen.

New school lunch regulations announced by USDA Aug. 13 set spending ceilings that are "unequivocally inadequate," said the directors.

If the regulations are not changed before they are issued in final form about Sept. 1, the directors said, they will "result in a termination of programs in many places," and will "preclude any expansion to reach the additional estimated 3 million to 5 million hungry children in America."

The directors issued their statement Aug. 7, three days after Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng gave them a preview of the regulations in a speech to the American School Food Service Association convention in Minneapolis.

Big Four Agreement Key Breakthrough for Willy Brandt's Plan

By PETER REHAK

Associated Press Writer
BONN (AP) — The Big Four agreement on Berlin is an important breakthrough for Chancellor Willy Brandt's policy of improving ties with Communist eastern Europe.

It means he can start moving again on this keystone of his foreign policy, which has been stagnant since he signed treaties normalizing relations with the Soviet Union and Poland last year.

It also improves the re-election chances of his Social Democrat-led government in 1973.

Brandt considered Berlin a test of Soviet intentions in central Europe, and he made a satisfactory agreement on the city by the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union a precondition to ratifying the Polish and Soviet treaties.

He needed the agreement, whose aim is to bring practical improvements for the city, to show the Christian Democratic opposition that he got something for signing the treaties.

The opposition has charged he made political concessions by formally recognizing German territorial losses in World War II without getting anything in return.

While the text of the agreement has not been published and while details are still to be worked out between East and West Germany, it is certain to bring better access to West Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside Communist territory.

It is also expected to include provisions for West Berliners to visit East Berlin, something they have not been able to do on a regular basis since the Berlin wall was built in 1961.

With the agreement in force, the opposition will be hard put to oppose the ratification of the treaties in the 496-member Bundstag, where Brandt has only a six-vote majority.

Voting against the treaties and thus against the agreement would mean that the Christian Democrats are disowning something which has been found acceptable by West Germany's closest allies—the United States, Britain and France.

The talks with the East Germans on the details are expected to take at least two or three months. It is not known whether Brandt will start ratification proceedings before the agreement is in force.

Brandt made no comment on the end of the 17-month-long ambassadorial talks. He evidently planned to wait until their draft is approved by their home governments.

Government Likely to Retain Some Controls After 90-Day Freeze

By JOHN STOWELL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary John B. Connally says the government is likely to retain some economic controls after the 90-day wage-price freeze expires.

"I think it's highly unlikely, it still remains a possibility but I think it's highly unlikely," that all controls will be lifted, he said Monday in an ABC interview.

"I would think there would have to be more than that," he said. "What it will be, how intensive it will be, what it will be."

Bombers Hit Enemy Along DMZ Area

By GEORGE ESPEK

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers attacking another antiaircraft battery in North Vietnam triggered numerous secondary explosions, the U.S. Command reported today and B52 heavy bombers dropped nearly 600 tons of explosives along the demilitarized zone.

Fighting continued for the 12th day along the DMZ Monday, with 37 North Vietnamese reported killed. Many of them were the victims of U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery. Four South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 25 wounded.

Viet Cong forces shelled the big U.S. helicopter base at Phu Loi, 12 miles north of Saigon. The U.S. Command said less than five rockets hit the base, wounding some Americans but causing no fatalities. Field reports said a few helicopters were damaged.

The air attack inside North Vietnam Monday afternoon, two miles north of the DMZ, was the 52nd so-called "protective reaction" strike against North Vietnam this year.

Capt. James D'Entremont of the U.S. Command said the antiaircraft battery fired on an unarmed American reconnaissance jet and the two F4 Phantom fighter-bombers escorting the photo plane attacked the battery. He said none of the U.S. aircraft was hit, but the numerous secondary explosions reported by the pilots indicated direct hits on the antiaircraft battery or on ammunition stored there.

D'Entremont said it was the third time since Aug. 8 that U.S. reconnaissance planes have been fired on in the area.

Mills Rally Bringing in 'Big Wheels'

By ROBERT SHAW

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — In the glittering array of dignitaries announced so far who will attend the "nonpolitical" rally for Rep. Wilbur D. Mills Thursday night, Democrats outnumber Republicans about 30 to 1.

The one Republican is former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who has bought a block of 20 tickets to the festivities in Barton Coliseum in Little Rock.

There are facetious suspicions in some political circles that Rockefeller, at $5 a ticket, has just contributed $100 to the state Democratic party.

But former Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell of Benton, the state Democratic party chairman and chief rally promoter, denies any political aspects to the rally. It is strictly an "appreciation" gathering in honor of Mills, the longtime Democratic congressman who has disavowed presidential ambitions despite efforts to promote him for the job in 1972.

U.S. Dollar Weakens But Slightly

LONDON (AP) — The price of the dollar weakened slightly on European foreign exchanges today, but the changes were too small to show any downward trend.

It was the second day of trading after a week's suspension because of President Nixon's program to force an upward revaluation of stronger foreign currencies.

Trading was light again today for the second day.

Attention centered on Geneva, where Nathaniel Samuels, the U.S. deputy undersecretary of state, was defending Nixon's new 10 per cent import surcharge at a special meeting of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, or GATT.

GATT is the 80-nation organization created after World War II to work for tariff reductions, and the import tax is a violation of its rules. But 11 nations have taken the same action as a temporary measure when they were beset by deficits in the balance of payments of the foreign trade balance.

Early quotations on the major foreign exchange markets included:

London—One dollar bought 40.90 British pence today; Monday it bought 40.98 and on Aug. 13, the last trading day before Nixon's announcement, it bought 41.33 pence. Today's price amounted to a devaluation of the dollar of 1.2 per cent.

Frankfurt—The dollar does for 3.425 marks on Aug. 13 and for 3.4250 Monday. Today it bought 3.4235 marks at the opening, then strengthened slightly to 3.4250.

Paris—The new two-rate system was in force with an official quotation for commercial dealings and a "financial" quote for tourists and capital transfers. On Aug. 13, a dollar bought 5.5130 francs. Today the financial rate was 5.425, compared with 4.58 at Monday night's closing; the official rate was 5.525 francs today, 5.52375 Monday night.

Beirut—The dollar was worth 3.265 Lebanese pounds on Aug. 13, 3.225 Monday and 3.215 today.

Zurich—A dollar bought 3.9950 Swiss francs today, 3.9925 at the close Monday and 4.065 on Aug. 13.

Brussels—The dollar bought 48.65 Belgian francs today, 48.825 Monday and 49.625 on Aug. 13.

Amsterdam—The dollar bought 3.4625 guilders today and 3.4775 Monday. The guilder has been floating in the open market since May 10, and its dollar value has increased by nearly 5 per cent since then.

Tokyo—Trading during the morning was quiet, but the Bank of Japan told commercial banks it is intensifying its yen conversion guidelines, and the commercial banks rushed to buy dollars. Volume reached about $100 million, with the Bank of Japan supplying about $80 million from the huge stock it bought last week to keep the value of the yen down. The rate fluctuated between 357.80 and 358.40 yen.

La Paz Seeks Weather Investment

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's new anti-Communist government has indicated that private investment will once again be welcome in the underdeveloped nation.

"We will give all guarantees to private initiative for capital investment in our country ... to extricate Bolivia from underdevelopment," Finance Minister Raul Palaez said after the new government's first cabinet meeting Monday.

The leftist-nationalist regime of Gen. Juan Jose Torres, which was overthrown last weekend, had nationalized U.S. mining interests in the country and approached the Soviet Union for aid.

In Washington, the State Department said it was studying the possibility of recognizing the new Bolivian government.

The sound of gunfire echoed through the streets of La Paz for a third night Monday as the government attempted to clean up armed opposition from radical left-wing students.

Armored cars and troops with heavy automatic weapons and bazookas returned the fire of student snipers shooting from the protection of buildings in the San Andres University area, a dozen blocks from downtown La Paz.

An undetermined number of student supporters of Torres held out in the area despite a ground and air attack Monday afternoon.

The Red Cross said five persons, including several passersby, were killed and 20 were wounded when troops opened fire with 50-caliber machine guns, and an air force P-51 fighter strafed the 13-story main university building.

Between 200 and 300 students, including 35 women, surrendered and were marched to jails and military barracks. Troops who searched the building found stores of dynamite, hand grenades and material for manufacture of Molotov cocktails in the basement. But the attack was not enough to drive all of the students out of the building, one of the tallest in the city.

The holdouts called by loudspeaker from the upper floors, urging the people to "take up arms and go into the streets" to defeat the "fascists."

Red Cross and unofficial sources have reported at least 125 dead and more than 500 wounded since anti-Communist military and civilian leaders rebelled last Thursday and drove Torres into hiding on Saturday.

Col. Hugo Banzer was installed as president on Sunday with the backing of the National Revolutionary Movement, the MNR, and the Bolivian Socialist Falange.

called, I don't know.

"One of the principal advantages it seems to me of the wage-price freeze," said President Nixon's chief economic spokesman, "is to cause the American people to halt for a moment and think about what they are doing to themselves with this constant stair-stepping of wages and costs and price increases."

One reason for labor dissatisfaction with the new Nixon package is that the freeze does not cover interest rates, especially on home mortgages. The Federal Home Loan Bank Board called a news conference today to "discuss a rise in mortgage interest rates and several steps being taken to stabilize these rates."

Meanwhile, four Catholic University law professors filed a federal suit in Washington charging that Congress, by passing the 1970 Economic Stabilization Act, unconstitutionally gave the President authority to clamp on the freeze.

The suit, thought to be the first against the new economic policy, charges Congress "totally and unrestrictedly delegated to the executive its legislative power to decide whether or not general wages and prices shall be stabilized" and failed to lay out guidelines.

On Capitol Hill, three former price-and-wage controllers testified voluntary restraints will not work and urged creation of a control board to police the new program.

about their stars.

Your high school yearbook was incomplete unless at least half of your classmates had written in it. "Leaves may wither, flowers may die, friends make you—but never shall I."

When Dad lost his job during the Great Depression you could hardly stand the embarrassment of going into the grocery store and having to buy margarine instead of butter.

Most of the working people in America could get to or from their jobs in less than half an hour.

The automobile was so new that it had not yet begun to scar the countryside with its unsightly metal graveyards.

A wife was regarded as extravagant if she sent her husband's shirts to the laundry instead of washing and ironing them herself.

People worried more about being polluted by sin than about the pollution of their environment.

At parties, Americans gossiped about each other less, sang together more.

School Case Goes to U.S. Appeals Court

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — A U.S. District Court ruling on the West Memphis School District desegregation plan was appealed Monday to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

Judge G. Thomas Eisele approved in July the plan that calls for complete desegregation of the top three grades in the district and the establishment of attendance zones for elementary schools and junior high schools.

Treason Is Charged to 11 Blacks

By RON HARRIS

Associated Press Writer

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — State treason charges have been filed against 11 black separatists in connection with the death of a policeman in a shootout last week.

The treason charges were announced Monday after a preliminary hearing in which the 11 were bound over to the Hinds County Grand jury on other charges that included murder and attempted murder.

The charges stem from the death last Wednesday of Jackson police Lt. William L. Skinner, 36, outside the headquarters of the Republic of New Africa here. Another policeman and an FBI agent were wounded.

The defendants, including RNA President Dmari Obadele, were held without bond.

Dist. Atty. Jack Travis said he and other officials brought the treason charges alleging an act of war had been committed against Mississippi. If convicted, the defendants face a mandatory death penalty.

The RNA, organized in Detroit, has the announced aim of establishing a separate black nation in the South.

Police said the shootout occurred after FBI agents and Jackson police arrived at the RNA headquarters to look for four persons sought on charges ranging from assault to murder.

Authorities said only one of the four persons, wanted on a misdemeanor assault charge, was found.

Seven of the defendants were arrested at the headquarters. Four others, including Obadele, were arrested at another house and Travis said the charges against them were based on state law concerning persons "aiding, abetting, assisting or encouraging the commission of a felony."

On Monday night, a 20-year-old Michigan youth, the prime object of the RNA search last week solved what he called military intelligence reports detailing more than a score of meetings between them. Benigno Aquino Jr. and leaders of Marxist and Maoist rebel forces.

He accused Aquino of giving them money and weapons during the past six years.

Aquino said in a radio interview afterwards: "The President has finally come out with these rumors."

The 39-year-old Liberal party secretary-general said he had been expecting Marcos to make these "very serious charges," and said he hoped that he would be treated like any other citizen and be given "my day in court to confront" the accusations.

It was reported that more than 30 persons have been arrested in connection with what Marcos calls an armed insurrection by Communist rebels involved in plots to burn Manila, assassinate and kidnap public officials and spread terrorism.

State Could Get More Showers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A low pressure trough in the upper atmosphere that triggered showers in the state Monday has moved to the east, but an approaching cold front promises to bring more showers to the state by late today or early Wednesday.

Early today, the front extended from the eastern Dakotas, through Northwest Kansas and into the southern portion of Nevada. A weak high pressure system centered over Mississippi dominated the state's weather today.

The forecast calls for widely scattered thundershowers through Wednesday with little temperature change.

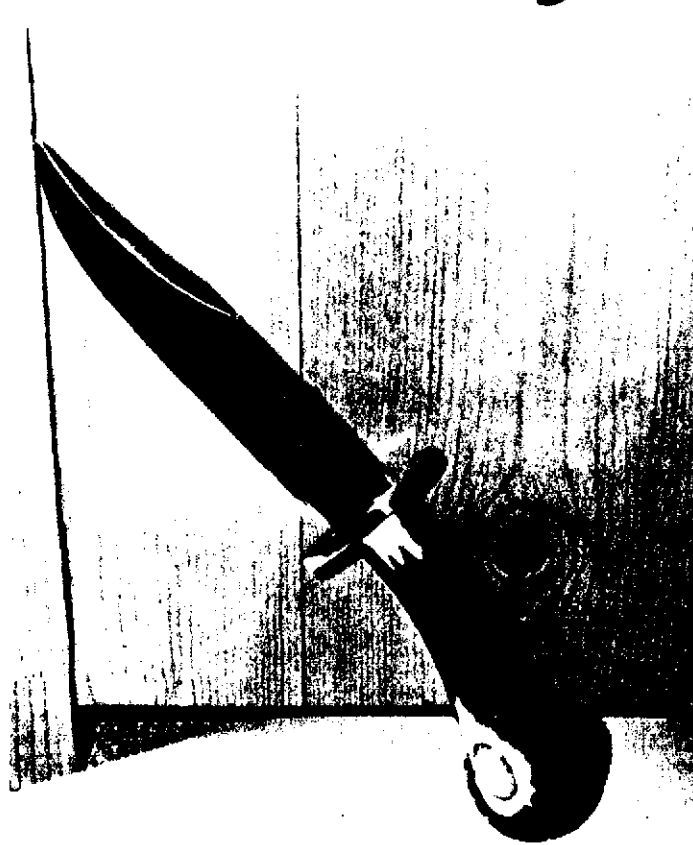

The extended outlook said skies should become partly cloudy Thursday through Saturday.

Highs Monday ranged from 87 at Memphis to 94 at Texarkana.

Overnight lows included 65 at Fayetteville, 66 at Harrison, 67 at Jonesboro, 72 at Pine Bluff, 70 at Texarkana, 69 at Memphis, 69 at Little Rock and 73 at Fort Smith.

Precipitation for the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. included .03 of an inch at Pine Bluff and .13 at Texarkana.

This is the first knife made by Lloyd A. Hale in the restored shop of Blacksmith James Black who made the famous knife for Jim Bowie at Washington.

The knife was a special order and was delivered recently during a show in Dallas, Texas. Mr. Hale, who now lives in Washington and is a specialist in the field, said he had received many orders for Bowie knives which he displays at various shows. His knives cost from $45 on up, depending on what the buyer wants.

MILLS RALLY

the plans for the rally, Purcell said in an interview about two months ago that the event would be a demonstration of support for Mills as a presidential candidate and would raise money for the state Democratic party. Purcell said then that the party in a state with a potential candidate for president was called on to do more that costs more money, and that was the reason for the need for more funds.

In the weeks intervening, however, the rally has grown nonpolitical, Purcell said, because "friends of Mr. Mills of many political persuasions wanted to attend."

And, in the metamorphosis a sign touting Mills for president outside "appreciation" headquarters in Little Rock's smart, new bus station has been papered over.

Where will the proceeds now go?

Purcell said he doubted that the event would make any money because the $5 ticket price is "very nominal" and because of the cost of housing the dignitaries, including 20 to 25 congressmen, entertainment and rental on the coliseum and "appreciation" headquarters.

If there is any money after expenses, who will get it?

"If any money is left over, we'll ask Mr. Mills where it will go, but I don't anticipate that we'll make any money," Purcell said.

The Democrats held a fund-raising party in 1969 honoring all of the state's Democratic congressional delegation, including Mills, and Purcell said he thought a rally honoring only Mills would be successful because "people have high esteem for Mr. Mills." He said the fact that Mills had been mentioned as a possible candidate for president had not lent impetus to the rally.

"This is not a rally to promote Mr. Mills' candidacy — this is a rally to show appreciation for him," Purcell said, but he admitted that it was "very timely."

Mills called on "appreciation" headquarters Tuesday for the first time and disavowed political connections in the rally. He said he would not want the rally to take on political aspects "under any circumstances."

A spokesman suggested to Mills that there seemed to be "tightrope" between political and nonpolitical aspects of the rally.

"Let me allay any thought that this is a tight-rope walking affair," Mills said, adding that he had Republican friends in and out of the state who would attend who could not support him as a presidential candidate and he did not want them embarrassed.

Steel May Be Out of Worst Slump

By M. W. MINARCIN JR.

Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steel industry, financially troubled keystone of the nation's economy, is beginning to rustle with signs of a turnaround after its worst slump in more than a decade.

Whether the upswing will last is in question, but industry sources say they believe the stirring will gather steam if President Nixon's new economic policies take hold.

"We're not out of the woods yet, not by any means," says one industry insider. "But this is the first time in years that anybody has been able to detect a note of optimism in the front office. Oh, the note is faint, certainly. It's like a giant barely twitching in his sleep. But we think that perhaps, just perhaps, the giant may be on his way to waking up."

Words like that haven't even been whispered around steel company board rooms since the mid 1960s, when the entire economy was bubbling along on a spending spree created in large measure by the Vietnam war.

In the late 1960s, in fact, well before the economy dipped into the sluggish slump that has prompted the President's wage-price-rent freeze and related steps, industry leaders were fearful of the future.

Then, the giants like first-ranked U.S. Steel and second-ranked Bethlehem were complaining of being caught in a squeeze. On one hand was competitive pressure from lower-priced imports—most notably from Japan—while on the other was a soaring production cost problem, worsened by inflation, ever-expanding payrolls and, in many cases, antiquated techniques.

The first signs of a turnaround materialized Monday when the American Iron & Steel Institute reported that for the first time since July, domestic steel production rose slightly last week after plummeting to 947,000 tons, lowest level since the long steelworkers' strike of 1959.

The July slump was brought on mainly by worry that the industry would be shut down by a steelworkers' strike Aug. 1. Steel users stockpiled the metal in huge quantities to see them through that possibility.

When the steelworkers accepted without a walkout a new three-year contract giving them a 30 per cent wage increase, the industry was left in the position of having to wait until the users' stockpiles began dwindling before production could be fired up again.

Some mills have been operating since the settlement at 20 per cent of capacity, and thousands of steelworkers have remained jobless.

Osteopath Ruling Is Criticized

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr. has told the state Medical Board secretary the board should have consulted his office before rejecting an Oklahoma osteopath's application to be licensed in Arkansas.

Thornton said he was preparing an attorney general's opinion on Act 650 of 1971, a new law governing the licensing of osteopaths.

The attorney general sent letters on Aug. 20 to board Secretary Joe Verser of Harrisburg and to the board's attorney, Eugene R. Warren of Little Rock.

Dr. Robert G. Gillson of Poteau, Okla., who had asked about being licensed, was told by Dr. Verser that he could not be licensed under Arkansas law. He said this was because the law provided for licensing of osteopaths only if they had graduated from osteopathic school within the last five years if they had been licensed under a previous law.

Thornton's letter to Verser said, however, that there was no such provision in Act 650 of 1971.

Thornton noted in his letters that another 1971 law gives the attorney general's office the authority to decide whether state boards may have legal counsel aside from that provided by the attorney general's office.

The letter to Warren noted that he had served the board for years and added: "If this long service makes it difficult for you to be completely objective with respect to all physicians licensed under the Medical Practices Act, or entitled to be licensed thereunder, this office would not find it burdensome to supply some objective representation to be in the public interest."

The act was designed to increase medical services in rural areas that have little medical attention.

Gillson wrote that the Western Arkansas Planning and Development District had expressed a need for additional medical service for the Waldron area.

AMERICAN TROOPS

the order probably would remain in effect until after the election Sunday of a new lower house for the National Assembly.

Thieu was believed to have advised U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker of his opposition to Ky's proposal at a meeting Monday night, and there was speculation as to what the United States would do now. U.S. officials said last week that if Thieu ran unopposed, the U.S. government would reconsider its Vietnam policy, including the aid program.

Thieu once again became the only active candidate when Ky announced Monday that he would not campaign—despite having been reinstated on the ballot by the Supreme Court—because he believed Thieu was rigging the election.

Ky proposed that he and the president resign simultaneously, that the chairman of the Senate become interim president, and that Thieu arrange a new election within 90 days.

This procedure is provided for by the constitution, but numerous Vietnamese and Western observers expected Thieu to reject it. They reasoned he had already made one concession by yielding to Bunker's urging that he direct the Supreme Court to put Ky back on the ballot, and that was as far as he would go.

One legislator, a prominent opponent of Thieu, said he thought the situation was "completely beyond the grasp of the Americans to change it."

SAYS SCHOOL

neapolis.

The regulations place greater restrictions on how state school lunch directors may spend the federal money they get and, directors said, give them less to spend.

In his speech, Lyng said the federal government administers more than $1 billion in child nutrition programs and "we must have discipline if we're going to live within our budgets."

"Fiscal discipline is always difficult but it is absolutely essential," he said, adding that it may be a "gross understatement" to say that "every-one will not agree with the law."

Leaders of antihunger organizations said the new regulations caught the school lunch directors by surprise.

Lyng said Monday night it would be "presumptuous to comment on what we will eventually do until we get comment from them." The deadline for the directors to file their comments is Aug. 28.

The ASFA would like to see 100 per cent federal funding for all school lunches, Lyng said, adding, "We view the school lunch program as a partnership between the state and federal governments, local school districts and the parents of children. That's a fundamental disagreement I suppose, in the concept of the school lunch program."

Wants Probe Into Bad Soup Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal has urged a congressional investigation of federal food-inspection programs because of the discovery twice in two months of soup contaminated with botulism toxin.

The New York Democrat, who was chairman of a consumer investigative subcommittee until reorganization killed the panel this year, accused the agencies Monday of "an incredible abuse of their responsibility to protect the consumer from unsafe products."

Campbell Soup Co. announced Sunday it was recalling 200,000 cans of chicken vegetable soup packed July 15 and found contaminated with botulism toxin. Vichyssoise packed by Bon Vivant on May 21 was blamed for the botulism death a month later of a New York man.

The Food and Drug Administration, which is responsible for general sanitation and manufacturing practices at food plants, had not inspected the Campbell plant in Paris, Tex., for two years. The Bon Vivant plant in Newark, N.J., had gone uninspected for four years.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. EDWARD ASLIN, JR.

Miss Carolyn Cobb became the bride of Edward Aslin, Jr., Saturday evening in the First United Methodist Church in Nashville. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Cobb of Nashville, and Edward Aslin, Sr., and the late Mrs. Lena Evans Aslin, of Hope.

Reverend Bob Treischmann performed the double-ring ceremony. Music was presented by Mrs. Cleone Goss, organist, and Miss Charlotte Ramage, soloist. Candlelighters were Johnny Carter and Bob Wylie.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a floor length gown of voile in an empire silhouette. Venice lace trimmed the Bishop sleeves, cuffs, and stand-up collar. Lace and covered buttons accented the full length of the dress. Her full length illusion veil, which covered the chapel train, was held by a Juliet cap of lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of daisies, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Jim Stuckey was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Wallis, Mrs. Stan Maas, and Mrs. Mike McClure. They wore blue floor length gowns in an empire silhouette. Covered buttons trimmed the bodice, and lace and ribbon streamers accented the back of the dress.

The grooms father was best man. Groomsmen were Tommy Still, Bobby McGill, and Dennis Ramsay. Guests were seated by Eddie Cobb, Johnny Carter, Bob Wylie, and David Griffin.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Assisting at the brides table were Miss Becky Bridgeman, Miss Debbie Dodson, Miss Penny Burke, and Mrs. Chaney Floyd.

The couple will be at home in Texarkana.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the uptight television world, James Stewart is an island of calm.

During almost four decades of film making and close to 100 pictures, he has learned to concentrate on his job—acting—and let trusted associates do the rest of the work and worrying.

NBC nailed one of Hollywood's perennial favorites as the star of its new series, "The Jimmy Stewart Show," figured to be very rough competition in a Sunday night spot between the network's Disney hour and "Bonanza."

Stewart, 63, seems solely interested in his involvement in a new medium. On a recent morning he was relaxing between scenes wandering contentedly around the set, finally alighting in his mobile dressing room parked close to the sound stage.

"This isn't as hectic as they say it is," he said. "You do have to work fast. It's a deadline racket and you don't have much of a chance to cover yourself or to experiment. The things you have to depend on are instinct and experience."

NBC is counting heavily on Stewart's great appeal to audiences of all ages. Jimmy himself thinks that he has a whole new generation of fans best man. Groomsmen were William Coy Nolen II, brother of the bride, Curtis Bradbury and Dr. Gilbert O. Dean, Jr. of West Memphis, Arkansas. William L. Moore of Nashville, Tennessee, Grandison Royston III of Arkadelphia, and Thomas Hinson served as ushers.

A reception in the church followed the ceremony. After a trip to Tan-Tar-A Resort, Missouri, the couple will reside in Little Rock. The bride is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and the bridegroom is stationed with the Air Force at Jacksonville Air Force Base.

picked up by all those old movies in circulation.

With most people involved in television selling their new product with the fervor of used-car salesmen, Stewart's soft understatement is refreshing.

"It's really nothing very new," he said. "We're making a family show with comedy—and a little wild humor through it."

He plays a professor—"forgetful and sort of mentally uncoordinated"—with wife and a couple of children, even a grandson.

"Most times we take a trivial but typical family situation and build a half hour around it," he said.

In recent years Stewart has made pictures only when a script appealed to him and has done a lot of leisurely traveling with his wife, Gloria. Having committed himself to the series, Stewart now puts in a 10-hour working day, arriving at the studio at 8 and leaving at 6. His evenings and his weekends are jealously protected from occupational invasion. Saturdays and Sundays he usually plays a little golf and flies his plane.

"I've loved airplanes all my life," he said, "and I learned to fly in 1935. I missed flying when I retired from the Air Force in 1968, so I bought a tiny plane. Mostly I just fly around—I don't go anywhere."

THOUGHTS

He who restrains his words has knowledge, and he who has a cool spirit is a man of understanding. Even a fool who keeps silent is considered wise; when he closes his lips, he is deemed intelligent.—Proverbs 17:27, 28.

Self-control is the quality that distinguishes the fittest to survive.—George Bernard Shaw.

Tend the flock of God that is your charge, not by constraint but willingly, not for shameful gain but eagerly, not as domineering over those in your charge but by being examples to the flock.—1 Peter 5:2, 3.

Questions, Answers About SS

If you have any questions regarding social security, send them to the Social Security Office, Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501, Attention: Glenda Bozeman.

Q. If a man dies and has his social security check in his pocket, can the family cash it?

A. No. The check should be returned to be reissued to the heirs in the appropriate name or names. If the check was issued jointly to a husband and wife, any social security representative can stamp the check to make it payable to the survivor all other checks should be returned to be reissued.

Q. I am 80 years old and don't get any kind of government payment. I hear everybody gets one kind of benefit or another. I want mine. How do I get it?

A. True. Most people your age get either social security or welfare. There is also a special payment for people not getting either of these benefits. Check with your Social Security office to find out if you qualify for some type of payment.

Q. I am receiving widows benefits and find I want to remarry. I want my social security to continue but do not want to cheat the government or live common-law? Is there any answer?

A. Yes. Most benefits continue for people who re-marry after becoming age 60. Check with social security. Tell them about your plans and ask them if remarriage would affect your right to benefits.

Q. When I filed for social security benefits this year I told them I would only earn $1600. I now find that my earnings will amount to about $3000 for the year. What should I do about the mistake?

A. Telephone, write, or visit your nearest social security office as soon as you possibly can. Give them the details and they will help you work it out. If you have been overpaid arrangements will be made to have you refund it. If this will cause a hardship for you an installment refund may be possible.

THE ONLY WAY TO GET MARRIED...

Dear Helen:

I am 17 and pregnant. I didn't want a baby this soon but, in our State, the only way a fellow under 18 can get married is if he "has to." We wanted to get married, so what else could we do?

Now I'll lose my education, because of a dumb law.

Another thing, in our County there is no sex education except on back roads, and of course unmarried people can't get any kind of contraceptives or advice. Naturally, I won't be able to attend high school after I start showing. We live in the uptight Bible Belt!

I think there should be liberalized laws all over the country, not just hit-and-miss in year. What should I do about the mistake?

A. Telephone, write, or visit your nearest social security office as soon as you possibly can. Give them the details and they will help you work it out. If you have been overpaid arrangements will be made to have you refund it. If this will cause a hardship for you an installment refund may be possible.

They decided we needed drastic punishment, so he spanked us—hard, giving us the stupid line that it hurt him more than it did us. Mom is kind of sickly, so she gave the job to him, saying if she were healthy, his whacks would be love taps compared to what she would give us. I mean, they were really furious, Helen. Besides, they grounded us for the rest of the summer. And I'll STILL hitch if I need a ride!

I think that was much too much, as everybody hitchhikes nowadays, and nobody gets spanked any more. Mom says any parent would get that tough if she caught her daughters

Bobcats Have Memories of Ashdown

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Hope's Bobcats have been hitting hard lately and while there have been no major injuries everyone is feeling the lumps.

Two Cats, Tim White and Tommy Miller, both received stitches on their chins for their first days work in pads. White had six stitches and Miller had eight, both while practicing form tackling.

Lately, Hope has been practicing on the kicking game, along with running through plays on offense and improving their defensive techniques.

One Bobcat, Rodney Steele, said "We're doing good, but I think we can do much better. Overall, we're in a lot better condition than last year."

Hope is still remembering that 1969 opening loss to Ashdown, when the Bobcats then went on to win the 4AA trophy, and of course they also remember last year, too. You can bet the Cats will be out for revenge.

The other Memphis homers were by pitcher Tom Sheppard and George Kazmarek.

Americans Find Friends in Cuba

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — America's volleyball "diplomats" found more than one friend during 10 days in Castro's Cuba.

"A woman said she loved the American way and would be rooting for us," said Dan Patterson of Malibu, Calif. "She kept looking around, making sure nobody overheard."

The USA's team was back home today after losing the finals to Cuba 3-1 in a hemispherical tournament to decide a berth for the 1972 Olympics at Munich, Germany.

"We went to a beach one day," recalled 6-foot-7 Bill Wardrop of Manhattan Beach, Calif.

"People smiled and offered us beer and soda pop. They told us how much they adored their system."

The streets of Havana were lined with Communist propaganda, even one giant billboard asking that black American militant Angela Davis be freed from jail.

"People seemed to be under pressure," said Wardrop.

"Truthfully, I'm not sure what I saw ... because I never saw Cuba in the old days. Those people, many of them, may have been even poorer and hungrier."

Havana's fashions left the USA athletes cold.

"We saw just one chick with

Charlotte and should give the Americans a tougher time.

"That girl turned out to be a secretary visiting from Mexico City."

Wardrop, a stylish Californian in flared trousers, said he saw nothing hip about the way Cubans dress.

Montreal's Expos Are Fired Up

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
The hottest team in the National League wins even in cold weather.

Montreal's fired-up Expos ignored some gusty breezes and warmed up their Canadian faithful Monday night with a 12-6 victory over Los Angeles that gave them an eight-game winning streak, their best ever.

Elsewhere in the National League Monday, Pittsburgh belted Atlanta twice 15-4 and 4-3 to open a five-game lead in the East Division, Chicago dumped Cincinnati 6-3, San Francisco topped New York 5-2, St. Louis nipped Houston 3-4 and Philadelphia dropped San Diego 3-1.

In the only American League games scheduled, Detroit thumped Minnesota 4-2 and Oakland walloped the New York Yankees 8-2.

The Canadian cool agreed with Boots Day and Rusty Staub, who destroyed the Dodgers with nine runs batted in between them.

Day had a two-run single in the second inning and a two-run homer in the fourth as Montreal built an early lead. Staub drove in an early run with a sacrifice fly and then climaxed Montreal's assault with a grand slam homer in the eighth, giving him five RBIs for the night.

Los Angeles, which slipped 7½ games back of San Francisco in the West Division race, grabbed an early 3-0 lead with Pitcher Don Sutton driving in two of the runs.

But the Expos bounced back with five runs to grab the lead in the second inning with John Bateman's bases-loaded single chasing the first two across and then Day's single and Staub's sacrifice fly capping the rally.

Day tagged his two-run homer in the fourth and Ron Fairly followed the issue with his bases-loaded blast in the eighth.

The Giants took advantage of Montreal's victory over the pursuing Dodgers by beating the Mets 4-0 and adding another game to their West Division edge.

Bobby Bonds paced the Giants' victory, hammering a homer and a double to lead the attack. Jerry Johnson came out of the bullpen to save the victory for rookie Don Carrithers, 3-2. It was the 14th save for Johnson, ace of the Giant bullpen. He also had 12 victories.

Bonds' 24th homer helped the Giants to an early 3-0 edge, then he doubled in one run and scored another in the sixth as the lead built to 5-0. The Mets kayoed Carrithers in the bottom of the sixth but Johnson shut off the rally and held New York at Bay after that.

Pittsburgh snapped out of an extended slump with its sweep against Atlanta.

Manny Sanguillen drove in two runs with a double and scored two others as the Pirates took the first game. Then Pittsburgh resorted to the long ball with Al Oliver crashing two homers and Roberto Clemente and Bob Robertson adding one apiece in the nightcap.

Oliver's triple and Clemente's 13th homer of the year were the big blows in a five-run third inning that put Pittsburgh in control in the second game.

Oliver finished with four hits in the game and called the sweep "a big thing for the club."

The sweep enabled Pittsburgh to gain one-half game on pursuing Chicago. The Cubs whipped Cincinnati in a day game with Juan Pizarro's five-hitter doing the job.

Ron Santo ripped three hits and drove in three runs for Chicago and Cleo James also had three hits including a two-run homer.

Bob Gibson pitched a seven-hitter and drove in the winning run with a ninth inning single as the Cardinals beat Houston, tagging Don Wilson with his first loss since July 18.

Hot-hitting Joe Torre drove in the first two Cardinal runs with a single and a double but the Astros rallied to tie the score before Gibson's ninth inning hit decided it.

Tim McCarver doubled home two runs and Rick Wise pitched Philadelphia past San Diego.

McCarver's fifth inning double snapped a scoreless tie and Willie Montanez drove in the Phillies' other run with a six-inning single as Wise won his 13th game.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN

National Conference: Central Division
DETROIT LIONS

PROSPECTUS—Until abortive day in Dallas, the Lions were the hottest team in all football last year. One bad afternoon shouldn't cool it. They have all the parts to make another strong run for title this year. Only chink is age on defense, and they made some moves in draft to protect themselves there. Two good years back-to-back have given them confidence, too. The great year is yet to come.

Offense

PASSING — Young Greg Landry, who maybe runs when he should throw, shot ahead of Bill Munson last year. He brings excitement to attack. He's also playing out his option, which isn't good psychologically. Rating—B+.

RUNNING — Because Lion runners have been so injury-prone, there's comfort in numbers. Mel Farr, Albie Taylor get first call—they had good years in '70 and are right in prime. But Steve Owens showed he could step right in and do his share. Even Nick Eddy, when healthy, helps. Rating—B+.

RECEIVING — Production, or lack of it, by Earl McCulloch has been biggest disappointment of attack. He has speed and moves. So rest is puzzle. Larry Walton forged ahead of him as wide threat. But greatest asset to overhead game is Charley Sanders, now ranked as premier tight end in NFL. Rating—B+.

LINE — Traded away left tackle Roger Shoals because Jim Yarbrough's ready as full-time performer. Other tackle, Rockne Freitas, starting to grab attention as all-leaguer. Already in all-pro class is center Ed Flanagan, hub of the unit. Guards Chuck Walton, Frank Gallagher are rock steady if not spectacular. Whole bunch does good job on running game. Rating—B+.

KICKING — Got excellent placekicker in Errol Mann and soaring punting from Herman Weaver last year. Rating—B+.

Prediction:
Watch out for this club. They'll rate play-off spot, though second in Central Division.

Hanging Out Pre-season Grid Wash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out some pre-season college football wash:

It could be called The Agony and the Ecstasy. The actual title is Notre Dame and Texas: The Wishbone Incident.

At any rate, it's an unusual show about last January's Cotton Bowl games in which Notre Dame ended Texas' 30-game winning streak. It will be shown over ABC-TV on Wednesday from 9:30-10:30 p.m., EDT.

You'll see all the big plays, including the notorious Texas Wishbone offense. Notre Dame's Mirrored Wishbone defense, however, is missing. It's about the only thing that is.

There are some unusual scenes, particularly of Darrell Royal and the Texas team in the dressing room before and after the game and Royal along the sidelines during the action.

You'll see and hear Royal's last-minute pre-game talk to his team and if you're expecting some of that Pat O'Brien "Get out there and fight, fight, fight!" you're going to be disappointed.

You'll listen to Royal's off-the-cuff remarks during the game, remarks such as, "I'll be damned; what else is going to happen to us?" after one of the Longhorns' numerous fumbles.

And you'll remember for a long time Royal's speech to a downcast group of athletes after the defeat in which he tells them to hold their heads high and act like gentlemen during Notre Dame's moment of glory.

"Royal was unbelievable," says Dick Snider of NCAA Films, who produced and directed the show. "Our sound man, Bill Cooper, knows a lot about sound but not too much about coaches. We put a microphone on Royal, but early in the first quarter it was evident that it wasn't working."

"I asked Cooper to go down to the field to see if he could fix it. Now, Cooper who knows considerably more about sound than he does about the temperament of coaches during a game, went down and walked right up to Royal. By this time, Notre Dame was driving for its second touchdown and when I saw Bill approach Darrell I thought we would have a murder on our hands."

"But when Bill explained the situation to Darrell, he replied, 'Well, I guess you want to try to fix it.' Royal stood docilely while Cooper removed the mike from his shirt and the power unit from his hip pocket. The problem was solved. In the meantime, Notre Dame scored again. When Bill finished, he went back to Darrell who stood still while the equipment was re-installed. One word describes Royal: Class."

Eddie Phillips, the Texas quarterback, and Tom Gatewood, Notre Dame's wide receiver, were in town last week for a preview of the film.

Phillips said it wasn't the Notre Dame defense—essentially a nine-man front—that beat Texas but rather the Notre Dame players.

"By the time we played Notre Dame," he said, "we'd seen just about every defense possible. It's not your alignment that wins games but what you do with your alignment."

Phillips also said he never doubted Texas could pull it out, even when the Longhorns trailed at halftime by the eventual final score of 24-11. "If anything," he said, "I was overconfident at the start of the second half."

Some 40 barbers showed up Monday for Stanford's football practice but Coach John Ralston wasn't insisting on haircuts for his players. Stanford invited the barbers for a clinic, practice session, barbecue and golf. They were given ticket application forms and the one who sells the most will be Stanford's guest at the Duke game.

"For the next few weeks, there'll be more talk about football in this area than about anything else," said Bob Murphy, Stanford's sports information director and a man who obviously knows his barbers.

"Besides," he added, "they don't always bug you for tickets. Saturday is their biggest work day."

Gary Adams, a junior defensive back, has an athletic scholarship to Kansas but gives the total amount of the grant back to the KU Endowment Association as a contribution. He can afford it. ## McAuliffe Finds Home Welcome

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Welcome home, Dick McAuliffe, you've been away too long.

After a season of ups and downs, mostly downs, the Detroit second baseman is prospering with a home plate-hugging hitting style.

"Right now, I feel I can hit anything—outside or inside," exclaimed McAuliffe after slugging a three-run homer in Detroit's 4-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins Monday night.

McAuliffe also had a double, his sixth hit in the last three games, to bring his batting average up to .206. That may not seem like much, but it's not bad considering he was only hitting .180 a month ago.

"I was in a bad slump because I was pulling away from the ball," declared McAuliffe, who was a .253 lifetime hitter before this year. "But I knew what I was doing wrong—and I corrected it."

Instead of backing off, McAuliffe dug in and leaned on home plate with a newfound aggressive determination that exploded into a three-hit day Saturday and one Sunday before Monday night's game.

In the American League's only other contest, the Oakland A's pounded the New York Yankees 8-2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates swept a doubleheader from the Atlanta Braves, 4-3 and 15-4; the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Houston Astros 3-2; the Chicago Cubs trimmed the Cincinnati Reds 6-3; the Montreal Expos defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 12-6; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the San Diego Padres 3-1 and the San Francisco Giants stopped the New York Mets 5-4 in the National League.

Despite his embarrassing batting average, McAuliffe has made his 79 hits count. He's got 16 home runs and 53 runs batted in—not bad for a .200 hitter.

Detroit Manager Billy Martin kept the faith all along, even if McAuliffe didn't. "I always had the confidence in him, even though he was down on himself," said Martin. "He's aggressive with the bat now."

Tommy Davis, rookie Angel Mangual and Dick Green each knocked in two runs and Chuck Dobson notched his 13th victory as runaway Oakland bounced New York and moved its Western Division lead to 16 games over second place Kansas City.

Davis contributed run-scoring grounders to two rallies—a three-run fourth inning and a three-run seventh. Mangual doubled home two in the seventh and Green had a sacrifice fly in the fourth and his 12th homer in the eighth inning.

Saints Are Careful With Archie

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New Orleans Saints aren't taking any chances with their No. 1 draft choice. The San Francisco 49ers are wondering what happened to theirs.

The Saints, winless in National Football League preseason play, began practice Monday for their fourth game, Saturday night at San Diego, but did so without quarterback Archie Manning.

Their top pick from Mississippi, who suffered a foot injury in last weekend's loss to Kansas City, will be kept out of training "until it is completely well," a team spokesman said.

He said Manning is walking normally but has been advised by doctors to rest the foot as much as possible.

The Saints also did without another quarterback. They traded Jim Ward to the Philadelphia Eagles for cornerback Richard Harvey.

The 49ers, meanwhile, will have to do without Tim Anderson for a long, long time.

Their top draft selection, a 22-year-old defensive back from Ohio State University, turned up in Toronto Monday as the newest member of the Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

He was introduced by Coach Leo Cahill, the persuasive recruiter who has already lured four other United States stars—quarterbacks Joe Theismann and Greg Barton, running back Leon McQuay and defensive lineman Jim Stillwagon—across the border.

Cincinnati turned up with something nice, too—an early display of offensive power and a solid fourth-quarter defense that brought the Bengals a 20-13 triumph over Pittsburgh in Monday night's only exhibition action.

Virgil Carter engineered the victory, hitting 19 of 27 passes for 191 yards, including a 10-yard scoring strike to Bob Trumpy.

Doug Dressler scampered 35 yards for the Bengals' other touchdown and Horst Muhlmann booted field goals of 42 and 16 yards as Cincinnati opened a 20-0 lead.

Terry Bradshaw plowed over from the one-yard line and Paul Rogers kicked three-pointers of 45 and 22 yards before the Bengals' defense stiffened.

In other notable activity, the Oakland Raiders learned that Hewitt Dixon, their veteran running back who piled up 861 yards last season, will be out of action with knee injuries for six to eight weeks.

The Chicago Bears signed running back Jim Grabowski, who signed for a big bonus with Green Bay in 1965 but was slowed by recurring injuries, was placed on waivers recently by the Packers.

Auburn Has Combination for Scoring

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Auburn's scoring combination of quarterback Pat Sullivan and split end Terry Beasley hope to attain a goal their senior year that has eluded them their first two seasons—win the Southeastern Conference championship.

With 32 lettermen returning, the Tigers are hopeful of bettering their last two 8-2 seasons and third place finishes in the SEC.

Auburn supporters are not the only ones to think the team can capture the crown. The SEC head coaches have already picked the Tigers to lead the conference.

However, Coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan, who is starting his 21st season at his alma mater, believes the other head coaches have put his team on the spot. But he feels his players will accept the challenge and work to achieve that goal.

Jordan said, "Our team has been close to the championship the last two years and played in two bowls and they know it will take a little more effort to finish on top."

Jordan feels the schedule does not exactly favor the Tigers, with them taking on Tennessee in Knoxville, Tenn., early and Georgia in Athens, Ga., late.

One of the Tiger losses in 1969 was to Tennessee, 45-19.

and Georgia defeated the Tigers, 31-17, last season. The other loss both seasons was to LSU, but the Bengal Tigees were skipped this season.
Leading the Auburn offense this year will be the touchdown producing combination of Sullivan to Beasley. And, although Beasley is always a threat on the long bomb, it will be Sullivan's ability to hit other receivers that could prove the difference.

Beasley caught 52 passes from Sullivan last season, 46 of them for either first downs or touchdowns. He also led the nation in touchdowns per catch, averaging one every 4.7 times he caught a pass.

Part of the success of Sullivan to Beasley in the past was the wide choice of optional receivers. But tight end Ronnie Ross, wingback Alvin Bresler, tailback Micky Zofko and fullback Wallace Clark will not be returning.
Top prospects for receiver positions are Ronnie Robinett at tight end and Dick Schmalz at wingback. Schmalz had two clutch catches in last year's Tennessee game which the Tigers won, 36-23, the Volunteers' only loss.

Jack, Arnie Foes Are Formidable

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the top two seeds, face formidable opponents Wednesday when match play returns to the pro golf tour after a 14-year absence.

No. 1 Nicklaus faces Ray Floyd and No. 2 Palmer has Australian Bruce Devlin in the first round of the $200,000 United States Match Play Championship.

The five-day tournament, which has an 18-hole final found scheduled Sunday, is the first official pro tour event to be played at match play since Lionel Hebert won the 1957 PGA national championship. The PGA went to stroke play in 1958.

Hebert is one of only three players in the field of 64 pros who have competed in official match-play tournaments in this country. The others are Art Wall and Gene Littler.

Several others, however, have competed in match-play tournaments abroad with Nicklaus the current titleholder in the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship played last fall in England.

Among the missing who originally were eligible are Lee Trevino, Billy Casper and Jerry McGee. Trevino, the current U.S., Canadian and British Open champion, and McGee both are recovering from surgery. Casper, the 1970 Player of the Year, was knocked out by a heavy cold.

The format calls for three rounds of head-to-head competition beginning Wednesday with half the field being eliminated each day.

Two 18-hole rounds, the quarter-finals and semifinals, are scheduled Saturday with the survivors meeting Sunday for the $35,000 first prize.

Although this is on a head-to-head basis, scoring will be on a stroke basis—rather than by holes—and each match will go a full 18 holes.

The field is made up of four winners from the past 12 months and was filled out to a total of 64 off the official money list.

It's on that basis that Nicklaus, the season's leading money winner and tops on the official list, got the No. 1 spot. He will play Floyd, the 33rd ranking player and former PGA champion. Palmer, No. 2, gets Devlin, a three-time winner in 1970 but 34th on the list this year.

come a winner if the offense finally matches the defense.

"We have lacked the offensive weapons in the past," says Coach Chuck Noll. "We've never had a Gale Sayers, and we've always been known as a physical team."

"But I see this as a year of great progress for us. There is no reason now why we can't be in the thick of things."

The Steelers have not had a winning season since 1963. In 38 years, they have never won a championship. Last year they were 5-9 and finished in third place in the Central Division of the American Conference.

Terry Bradshaw, the top draft choice in 1970, was a zealous rookie quarterback last season. Terry Hanratty was in his second season. Their combined passing percentage of 39 per cent reflected their lack of experience.

"Our quarterbacks are much further ahead of last year," said Noll. "This is the area I expect the most improvement."

However, the Steelers' rushing game remains questionable.

John Fuqua, who rushed for 691 yards last year, mostly in the last half of the season, was a pleasant surprise. And he is being counted on heavily this year to carry the brunt of the attack.

Warren Bankston could take up the slack of the retirement of Dick Hoak if he can stay healthy. He was out most of last season, was a pleasant surprise. And he is being counted on heavily this year to carry the brunt of the attack.

Miss Dogpatch U.S.A.

Miss LaVon McConnell, 18, of Ft. Worth, Texas was named Miss Dogpatch U.S.A. at the annual pageant held last Friday night in Kiro-Vention Hall Dogpatch near Harrison. The beautiful blonde was winner over 37 other girls from throughout the United States. She received a $3,500 scholarship and a $1,000 wardrobe. She will be representative for Dogpatch during the rest of 1971 and in 1972.

Dick Hoak if he can stay healthy. He was out most of last season with injuries.

But defense should be the Steelers strong point again.

Last year, the Steelers allowed only eight touchdowns by rushing, 12 by passing.

Joe Greene and Chuck Hinton are the keys to the interior line but 6-foot-5 I.C. Greenwood will see more action this season at left defensive end. Rookie Dwight White shows promise on the right side and may give Ben McGee a battle.

An interesting fight may develop at the left linebacker spot between rookie Jack Ham of Penn State and veteran Henry Davis.

Rookies Mike Wagner and Glen Edwards will see plenty of action in the defensive backfield and Edwards may have won a job as a kickoff and punt return specialist on the basis of his performance in the Steelers first preseason game. He returned two kickoffs 50 and 51 yards and had a 95-yard punt return called back because of a clipping penalty.

Jon Kolb, John Brown and Rick Sharp form the nucleus of the offensive line at the tackle spots.

Frank Lewis, the club's top draft choice in 1971, will team with Ron Shanklin at the wide receiver positions.

Last year, the Steelers split victories with their three divisional opponents.

Some Good News for Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas football team got some good news Monday: quarterback Walter Nelson is healing fast.

Nelson walked two miles Monday on the left ankle that underwent surgery earlier this month for ligament damage suffered last month in a basketball game in Fayetteville.

The injury had been expected to sideline Nelson until sometime in October, but he said Monday he felt no pain on the ankle and expected to return to practice in two weeks.

Without Nelson ready for action, quarterback Joe Ferguson would have no regular backup man this fall.

Monday was the Razorbacks' first workout in pads this fall and the temperature soared to 90 with humidity above 70 per cent. Coach Frank Broyles said the combination was difficult for the athletes but in the best interest of good physical conditioning. He said no date had been set yet for the first fall scrimmage.

Baylor Bears Are Sure to Be Better

WACO, Tex., (AP) — Baylor football fans haven't experienced the joy of a Southwest Conference championship since 1924. And 1971 isn't likely the year the mount will come to Muhammad.

The Bears have just enough offensive firepower and just enough salty defense to give an opponent a good hangover the next day. But the depth and talent just aren't there for a sustained ride to that Heaven New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl Classic.

Coach Bill Beall says "Our players have shown by their action in last year's battles and this spring that they want to win. The attitude and enthusiasm is there."

But Beall will be the first to admit that the Bears just don't have enough overall muscle to go with their good intentions.

The Bears are 2-19 under Beall and riding little momentum.

However, the Baptists got a big boost from a narrow 21-14 loss to SWC champion Texas in 1970.

"It proved to our kids that there just isn't that much difference," said one coach.

Baylor is not without some folks who could be headline stars in 1971.

Running back Matthew Williams is a good example.

"He's doing so much better now than he did last year," said line coach Bill Hicks. "He is running inside, breaking tackles, cutting back across the grain. He's quality."

Of course, the real crucial position is quarterback where Beall is keeping his fingers crossed on the development of St. Southall.

Southall, if he mends properly from a knee injury and shoulder operation, could be just the medicine the Bear offense needs. He hit 56 of 150 passes for 905 yards last year. In spring training, Southall was pushed by slick-running redshirt Randy Cavender, who needs to log some battle time.

On defense, Baylor will sting you.

Prison Plot Part of Big Breakout Plan

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — The abortive San Quentin Prison escape try which took six lives may have been part of a large-scale breakout plan using uniforms of slain guards, the head of California's state prisons says.

"It was more than just George Jackson and John (Larry) Spain trying to escape," prison chief Raymond K. Procunier said at a news conference Monday. "It's my suspicion there were many more who were supposed to go with them."

Only Jackson, 29, who was shot fatally by a tower guard, and Spain, 22, who was captured in a prison courtyard, ran from the San Quentin adjustment center, where three guards and two white honor inmates had been killed, prison officials reported.

"It may have come off prematurely," Procunier said. "We don't know if it was a plot throughout the system."

He said rumors of a massive prison escape attempt by "revolutionary types" had been circulating for months in California prisons and had caused him to meet a week ago with top state prison officials to discuss security measures to prevent violence.

Procunier said the discovery of a 9mm foreign-made automatic in the Afro-style hairdo of Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Brothers, may have started the break prematurely Saturday.

Jackson had just returned to the maximum security adjustment center after talking with attorney Stephen M. Bingham, when the gun was found during a routine "skin search," Procunier said.

After Jackson grabbed the pistol and "got the drop on the guard," he ordered several officers to the floor and made one guard release 25 other prisoners in the first floor cells, prison officials said.

They included John Clutchette, 28, and Fleeta Drumgo, 26, the two other Soledad Brothers awaiting trial with Jackson on charges of slaying a Soledad Prison guard.

There was also Ruchell Magee, 32, indicted along with black militant Angela Davis on charges of murder, kidnap and conspiracy in an Aug. 7, 1970 Marin County Civic Center shootout in which a judge, two convicts and Jackson's brother, Jonathan, 17, were slain.

Procunier said he believes at least several prisoners may have planned to masquerade with clothes from slain guards, because two of the dead guards had been found stripped to their underwear. He said bullets in soap possessed by convicts and a partially completed gun fashioned from a water pipe were discovered later in a search of the 2,000-man prison on San Francisco Bay.

"I don't see any master conspiracy," Procunier added. "I think we hit the apex here at San Quentin."

Meanwhile, authorities were searching Oakland and Berkeley for Bingham, 29, who worked with the Berkeley Neighborhood Legal Service and more recently the Berkeley law firm of Franck, Hill, Stender, Ziegler & Hendon. The firm said it had not heard from Bingham since Friday. Bingham is a nephew of Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y.

"When he surfaces, we want to talk to him," said Marin County Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales, who added that neither an arrest warrant nor an all-point bulletin has been issued for Bingham.

"The case has not been turned over to me yet," he said late Monday. "We are looking for him to question him because I have been told he was the last and only person to visit George Jackson on Saturday. Obviously, he is a key witness."

Associate Warden James Park said guards searched Bingham opened his briefcase but failed to check a small tape recorder. Park told reporters he believed "the gun was brought in a tape recorder."

Reaction to the slayings came from all quarters of the state.

Gov. Ronald Reagan blamed "revolutionary elements" and urged prison officials to take whatever steps are necessary to halt the violence.

Black Panther party chairman Bobby Seale urged a "people's investigation" of Jackson's slaying, while the United Prisoners Union, an organization of former convicts, demanded a similar inquiry by state legislators, the union and newsmen.

The slain correctional officers were Sgt. Jere Graham, 39; Paul Krasnes, 52; and Frank P. De Leon, 44. All three suffered knife or razor wounds, and Krasnes and Graham had been shot once each.

The dead inmates besides Jackson were John Lynn, 29, Ventura, Calif., and Ronald Kane, 28, Fresno, Calif. Both had their throats slit.

Rat Control Project Makes Some Progress

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four summers after rat control was the butt of jokes in Congress, federally financed projects are making some progress, but money woes continue and rats seem as prolific as ever.

For instance, in a recent case in New York City's South Bronx area where huge garbage heaps provide homes and food for rodents, cleanup crews routed several hundred rats and used picks and shovels to kill 110 of them.

Amid ridicule and puns about money going down rat holes and "a civil rats bill," the Johnson administration's initial plan to have federal funds help fight rats in America's slums died in the House in July 1967.

A public uproar ensued in support of U.S. aid to combat what one congressman termed "the most devastating enemy man has ever had."

The House reversed itself a few months later and the government began its war on rats. So far the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has distributed $14.8 million for fiscal 1969, $12.7 million for fiscal 1970, and had $15 million in its fiscal 1971 budget. And Congress has voted $15 million for rat control in fiscal 1971, which began July 1.

Despite some reports to the contrary, federal representatives insist "the environmental specialists we work with feel the rats are losing."

UNUSUAL CALM characterizes two views of embattled Northern Ireland. Street scene from Londonderry, left, catches a British soldier breaking for tea and fraternizing with an Irish lad too young to know what is happening to his homeland. Breaking the pattern of a row of burned-out homes in Belfast's Catholic Ardoyne section, right, a soldier crouches in a doorway.

Questions, Answers on Freeze

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite President Nixon's prediction that America will comply voluntarily with his wage-price-rent freeze, an Associated Press spot check indicates the public still is confused about what the freeze requires.

The man in the street still asks such questions as, "Will I get my raise?" This is despite a week-long flurry of official, highly publicized rulings that in nearly every case was a flat "no."

To answer the public's questions the government has converted Internal Revenue Service taxpayer assistance offices in 380 cities into local wage-price service and complaint centers.

To find out what the public is asking, Associated Press bureaus in a half-dozen major cities asked a sampling of citizens for their questions on the freeze.

Here is a selection of questions, with answers based on official policy rulings and policymakers' statements:

Q. I was given a raise effective Aug. 15, the day Nixon spoke. I was working at the new rate—I was at work in fact—when the President issued the order. Will I get the raise?

A. No. Unless your raise was in effect Aug. 14 you may not receive any increase except for a bona fide promotion, for completing educational requirements such as a teacher's degree or for certain military bonuses such as hostile-fire pay or proficiency pay.

Q. What about longevity raises? asks a San Francisco resident.

A. They are not allowed, nor are cost-of-living increases.

Q. What about fringe benefits?

A. They may not be increased, whether or not there is any direct cash payment. These are considered compensation.

Q. Is it really going to be across the board, or will a lot of exceptions be made? asks a New York municipal worker.

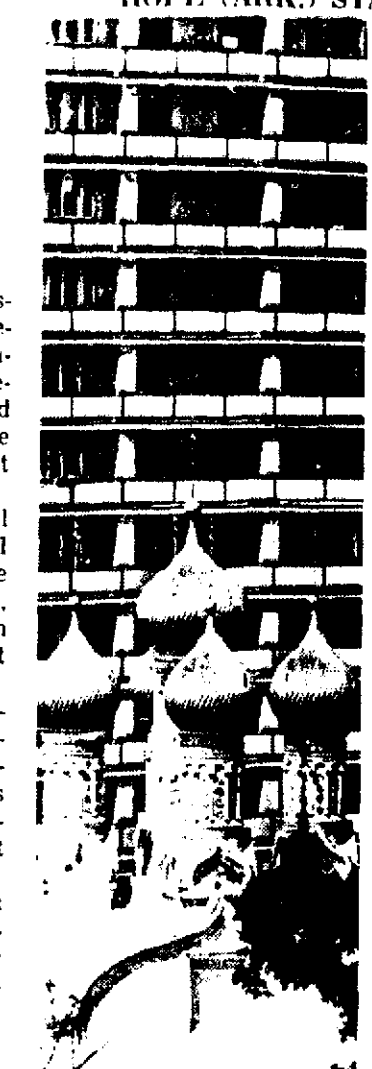

A. This remains to be seen. Almost no exceptions have been made on wages, a few more on prices. Prices may rise on interest rates, stocks, bonds, raw agricultural commodities such as fresh fruits and vegetables, state and local taxes, school tuitions if the increase was already announced, and exports.

Q. From Philadelphia: If an auto insurance policy expires before Nov. 12, the end of the freeze, can a company charge a higher rate than had been approved before Aug. 14?

A. Yes, provided a substantial number of policies were written at the rate before the freeze took effect. No rate increases may be granted during the freeze, however.

Q. A union contract was negotiated before Aug. 14 but not approved by the membership until a day or two after the freeze. It provided for retroactive pay to the time the contract expired July 1. Can these raises be collected after the freeze is lifted?

A. Probably not. The raise may not go into effect at least until after the freeze, and retroactive payments covering the freeze period are expressly forbidden.

CENTURIES are spanned in this view of two prominent buildings in the Soviet city of Gorki. In the foreground are the gilded onion towers of a 17th-century church, typical of historical Gorki. Behind it a new high-rise apartment, typical of the 750-year-old city's rapidly changing 20th-century face.

The government has not ruled on whether retroactive pay for the July 1-Aug. 14 period is permissible. It would have been if the contract had been ratified before the freeze.

Q. From Seattle: How does one seek an exemption from the freeze? When will OEP begin granting exemptions?

A. Those seeking exemptions should write the regional office of the Office of Emergency Preparedness. Only those suffering "gross inequities" need apply. There is no indication when the complaint-swamped OEP will respond.

Q. What will happen after the freeze?

A. The most definitive word so far is from Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, the President's chief economic spokesman. "I think it's highly unlikely, it still remains a possibility but I think it's highly unlikely," that all controls will be lifted after 90 days, Connally said in an interview Monday.

Q. Will prices jump after the freeze is over?

A. Judging from the history of wartime price controls a price jump after the freeze is almost certain unless the government extends some kind of restraints.

Q. Are prices on foreign goods going up to stay?

A. One way or another, probably yes. The President imposed a 10-per-cent import duty surcharge that is temporary but indefinite.

Q. If an auto dealer customarily offers discounts from list price, must he continue to offer such discounts during the freeze?

A. Yes. For all goods the general rule is that the price ceiling is that price at or above which 10 per cent of transactions were conducted in the 30 days before Aug. 14. This includes discounted prices.

Q. Can a food store go over all its records in 30 days prior to Aug. 14 and raise prices on all items to the highest charged in that period without regard to current charges?

A. Some prices may go up, especially if the merchant was caught with an exceptionally low sale price in effect at the start of the freeze. The 10-per-cent, 30-day rule applies here, too.

Q. Some complain the President did not freeze interest and profits. Did he have authority to do so?

A. Interest yes, profits no. A 1969 law gives him authority to ask the Federal Reserve Board to control interest and credit, but a ceiling on profits or dividends would require enactment of something like the wartime excess-profits tax, no longer on the books.

Q. May a restaurant raise prices to cover the increased costs of foods which are allowed to fluctuate?

A. No. They must absorb the loss if food prices go up, but may pocket the profit if the price goes down.

Bloody My Lai Story to Be Retold

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The bloody story of Charlie Company's assault on My Lai will be retold at the court-martial of Col. Oran K. Henderson with a new twist: the jury will hear recordings of radio transmissions during the attack.

The tapes were made in the crowded operations center of Task Force Barker the morning of March 16, 1968, when the 107-man company—a unit in the 11th Brigade commanded by Henderson—swept through the South Vietnamese village. Henderson's lawyers concede that 100-150 villagers died that day.

The colonel, who will be 51 Wednesday, is charged with being derelict in wilfully failing to investigate reports of a massacre and later lying to an Army board of inquiry. If convicted he could be sentenced to six years in prison, loss of pay and discharge.

Charlie R. Lewellen, 32, night duty officer for Task Force Barker, testified in the trial's opening day Monday that he recorded transmissions from three combat radios for personal use as training aids.

Lewellen, a former captain, now is employed in Temple, Tex., by the Central Texas Councils of Government.

By coincidence, he was company commander of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. at Ft. Benning, Ga. when the lieutenant—who led one of the platoons at My Lai—was charged with mass murder. Calley was convicted of killing 22 civilians at My Lai and sentenced to life imprisonment—a term that was reduced in the continuing review process to 20 years.

Three other veterans of the attack were tried and acquitted by court-martial and another trial, that of company commander Capt. Ernest Medina, is under way at Ft. McPherson, Ga.

Lewellen told a newsman he played the tapes for the board of inquiry headed by Lt. Gen. William R. Peers and at various other pretrial investigations. But the tapes have not been heard at any of the series of My Lai trials.

Col. Peter S. Wondolowski, the trial judge, said the recordings will be played later for the jury of two generals and five colonels trying Henderson.

Henderson was relaxed as his trial got under way and smiled when a former general described him as "a top flight officer, a dedicated professional."

As they did at Calley's trial, James Flynn, 23, of Rochester, Minn., and former Lt. Roger Alaux of San Bernardino, Calif., told of seeing many bodies in the village.

"Do you recall being questioned by Col. Henderson?" Alaux was asked.

"No, sir, I do not," said Alaux, who testified three times in the Calley trial.

"Do you recall being questioned by anyone at all?"

"No, sir, I do not."

Lewellen, asked the same questions, gave similar replies.

No Roadblock to China Trip Seen

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — A suggestion by Rep. Wilbur Mills that President Nixon might find it impossible to visit Peking has produced assurances that Communist China has raised no roadblocks to the trip.

One informed official said today there was every likelihood Nixon would go to Peking within the next eight months, as he said he would in a dramatic announcement in mid-July. The only qualification the official cited was "a wholly unforeseen development."

Mills, the Arkansas Democrat who is considered a possible candidate for his party's 1972 presidential nomination, told a Little Rock news conference Monday he was not certain Nixon would go to mainland China. He said:

"I don't know whether or not there are certain conditions that have been laid down for his acceptance as a visitor in Red China. If there have been certain conditions imposed for

Asked about this, a Nixon aide said the Chinese have advanced "absolutely no conditions" that would stand in the way of the President's planned visit.

Nixon's only official appointment today focused on Asian matters but was not related to the China trip.

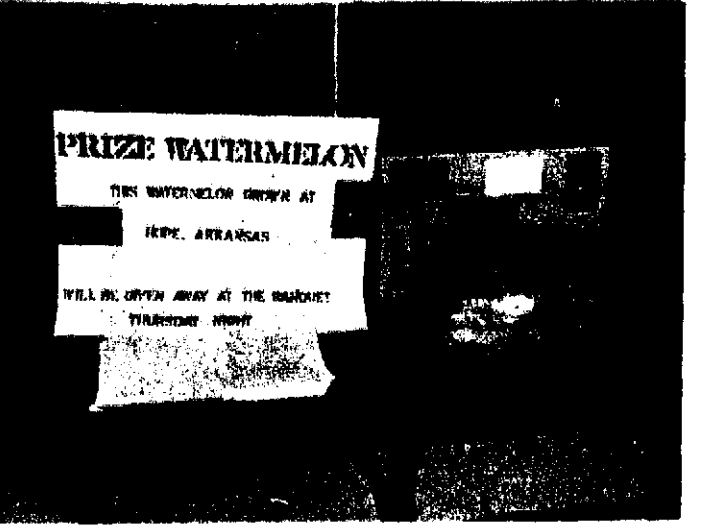

Ambassador William J. Porter was summoned from Washington to confer with Nixon before leaving Aug. 30 to take up his new post as chief U.S. negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon did not have specific new instructions to mind for Porter but simply wanted to talk to the envoy about where the negotiations "stand now and where we hope they will move."

Ziegler said the President wants to move toward meaningful negotiations but stated "the other side has not been responsive to our proposals." He referred to questions the U.S. delegation has raised about the Viet Cong's seven-point peace proposal of July 1 which has yet to elicit a direct American response.

The press secretary was questioned Monday about reports that Nixon's China journey might be scheduled for as early as October—sooner than officials had indicated. Ziegler said only that no decision on timing has been made.

Attention on Melon

Hope watermelons have made a big hit at the annual Poultry Science Association being held at the University of Arkansas, the week of Aug. 15th - 20th.

John Treat of Hope, brought up a prize watermelon grown by the Allen family of Hope, weighing approximately 75 lbs. The watermelon has been on display in the lobby of Pomfret Hall at the University of Arkansas, and will be given away at the banquet Thursday night.

The Hope Chamber of Commerce and Hempstead County Farm Bureau co-sponsored a watermelon bust at Pomfret Center Tuesday August 17 for approximately 1500 persons representing almost every state in the union plus Canada,

Communists See Doom of Democracy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Around the world, and especially in the Soviet Union, Communist commentators survey the international monetary up-roar and happily hail what they read as signs of the inevitable doom of western democracy.

It is not at all surprising that none of the Communist commentators has chosen to take note of the title the American President has conferred on his economic game plan—the "New Economic Policy."

It was exactly 50 years ago, at a time of enormous crisis in a Russia newly emerged from civil war and under shaky Bolshevik rule, that V. I. Lenin proclaimed his "New Economic Policy," called NEP for short.

Lenin's New Economic Policy and Nixon's were both radical shifts toward a new economic direction, but the likeness ends right there.

The American economic troubles are being presented to readers of the Soviet press as vindication of the theory that capitalism must inevitably encounter a "general crisis," that there are built-in "contradictions" which are bound to set one "imperialist" power against others. They use words like "panic" and "terror" to describe the developing situation in the capitalist world.

A Pravda correspondent has pictured Western economists as crossing themselves and exclaiming such things as "God save the dollar! God save America, and with her the whole western world!"

The Communist commentators would be understandably reluctant to recall Russia's own New Economic Policy. Alongside what Russia faced when Lenin produced his NEP, the American difficulties would look like the smallest of small potatoes.

The NEP was a sudden shift of gears, an 180-degree turn from what Lenin called "War Communism." Russia had been torn by three years of civil war, revolutionary chaos and widespread starvation. The Bolsheviks had nationalized the economy, but to try to continue on that course would have been to invite calamity of vast proportions. So, in 1921, the Bolsheviks' 10th party congress accepted Lenin's NEP proposals.

Concessions were made to capitalism in what Lenin openly admitted was a necessary "step backward." NEP would permit a large measure of freedom in internal trade. Principal beneficiaries would be the farmers, allowed to revert to capitalistic principles of production because the nation was starving. Results came quickly. By 1923, farm production was soaring. The threat of famine eased.

But Soviet leaders, including Stalin, saw in NEP a threat to their authoritarian rule. Stalin scrapped NEP in 1928, then turned viciously on the farmers. Instead of NEP, Stalin introduced the system of five-year plans intended to modernize the Soviet Union. "Kulaks"—allegedly rich farmers—were ruthlessly exterminated. Collectivization of farms was imposed at a cost of an incredible toll of lives. Again there was famine.

Eight men and two women were seated Monday as jurors for the case as attorneys interviewed a total of 43 prospective jurors. A panel of 12 more prospective jurors was summoned for the jury selection procedure today.

One other person is charged in the death of Shillcutt and is awaiting trial. He is Charles L. Anthony, 17, also of Little Rock.

Mexico, and some European Countries.

J.W. Rowe, president of the Hope Chamber of Commerce officiated at the watermelon feast. The melons were grown by Jimmy Arnold from DeAnn Community seven miles north of Hope, and were transported by Basic Foods Corp. of Camden, Ark.

Excess rain in the Hope area has hampered the prize watermelon production, but families such as the Aubrey Goodwins, Brian Roberts, and Lester Kents still compete for the $300 prize for the largest watermelon grown each year.

Hope has long held the record of producing the largest watermelons in the world. In 1930, Oscar D. Middlebrooks produced a 164 1/2 pound giant watermelon to establish a new record in melon growing. In 1935, Mr. Middlebrooks outdid himself by producing a 195 lb. giant, which still holds the world record in weight. It was later presented to motion picture star, Dick Powell, in Hollywood, California.

The same half acre on which Mr. Middlebrooks grew his 195 lb. world Champion, also produced a melon weighing 140 pounds and six melons in excess of 130 pounds. Thirty-two more melons weighed more than 100 pounds each for a total weight of more than 4,000 pounds in big melons.

In the summer of 1945, the Governor of Arkansas, through the cooperation of the Hope Chamber of Commerce, shipped Hope melons, all weighing over 100 pounds each; to the 47 governors in the nation. A 140 pound "Atomic Melon" was shipped to the President of the United States.

In 1956, a former resident of the area, living in San Diego, California, offered a prize of $1,000.00 for the largest melon grown that year. The winner, Mr. Middlebrooks, won with a 161 pound Cobb Gem, a different variety from his all-time champion.

In 1962, the "Champion" melon weighing 140 pounds, was displayed at the Seattle Worlds' Fair. In 1963, the largest one grown (146 pounds) was sent to the President of the United States. In 1964, a 156 pound watermelon was sent to the Manager of Mobile Oil Co. in Dallas, Texas, and in 1969, a 153 pound "Champion" was again shipped to the President of the United States.

Harvest time for the big melons runs from about July 20th to September 20th. The Cobb Gem and Triumph are the most common varieties. However, the White Seed Tom Watson also grows big in this area.

Selection of Jury in Murder Trial

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jury selection continued today for the first-degree murder trial of Robert Edward Baggett, 21, of Little Rock.

Baggett is charged in the Aug. 11, 1970, strangulation death of June B. Shillcutt, 62, who was found strangled with his own belt in his drugstore here.

The state seeks the death penalty.

Eight men and two women were seated Monday as jurors for the case as attorneys interviewed a total of 43 prospective jurors. A panel of 12 more prospective jurors was summoned for the jury selection procedure today.
